March 20, 2019, Growing up Cleveland

Local Historian Dennis Sutcliffe brings back memories of growing up in our fair city. Baby boomers raised in Cleveland grew up with a variety of unique children's television hosts – including the lovable Barnaby, the affable Captain Penny and the outrageous Ghoulardi. Relive the days of early television and along the way have fun with some children's television trivia.

April, 3, 2019, The Early Breweries of Cleveland

For several centuries, Cleveland has been home to a variety of breweries. Many of the old names from these breweries are familiar such as Gehrin, Leisy, Standard, Gund and, of course, Schlather (now known as the Great Lakes Brewery). These early brewers made a fine product that was in demand, but did you know that these brewers were philanthropists who supported the arts, social welfare and much more? Come and find out more!
